State budget includes $2 Million for Arts in Arizona

Arts Foundation for Tucson and Southern Arizona thanks our leaders and legistlators for this one-time allocation from the Rainy-day Fund interest that will support arts and culture programs statewide! We are especially pleased to thank Governor Ducey, who – along with the support of colleagues – increased funding to the arts this year by $500,000. This is a huge step forward for the arts, and we hope everyone reading this will take a moment to reach out to their representatives in Arizona to thank them for supporting the arts in our state and our community. Funding from the state helps the arts to continue to be the economic and community engine we all rely upon to make our daily life more engaging. Find your legislator here and here.
