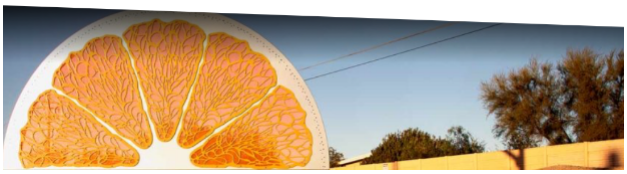
News

As the COVID-19 pandemic unfolds, we at the Arts Foundation for Tucson and Southern Arizona plan to continue publishing News & Opps, our bi-weekly e-newsletter that supports the arts community through the sharing of resources and funding opportunities.



PUBLIC ART - Call to Artists: Pima County Public Library
Martha Cooper Library Expansion

Budget for Artwork: $31,500
Application Deadline EXTENDED: April 10, 2020

Project Description:
The Pima County Facilities Management Department is seeking an artist or artist team to create design/fabricate/install art work as a part of the work for the upcoming expansion of the Martha Cooper Library within the library system and the Garden District neighborhood community within which it exists. The design of the expansion will begin with the hiring of the Architect pending the approval by the Board of Supervisors at their board meeting anticipated on March 17, 2020. The design of the expansion is consequently not set at this time. The art work will need to be incorporated into the design of the expansion and site improvements. The budget reflects the inclusion of the design, fabrication and installation for the public artwork.

New Works Artist Project Grant

$4000 individual awards for Visual Arts, Literary Arts, Video/Film/Moving Image

The New Works Artist Project Grant seeks to support the depth and breadth of innovative new artwork created and produced in the City of Tucson and Pima County. It supports individual artists' projects that meet the highest standards of excellence across a diverse spectrum of artistic disciplines. Creation activities must include the production of new artwork with an original and imaginative approach to content and form, as well as a public sharing, premiere, or presentation of the final piece.

Application deadline EXTENDED: April 20, 2020

New episode of Artistories on KXCI 91.3FM

Artistories is a KXCI program from the Arts Foundation that highlights the work of our grantees.

In this episode we hear from Serena McRae, watercolorist and creator of the card deck Affirmations Moms Actually Need. Serena tells us about how she came up with the idea for Affirmations Moms Actually Need , revealing how her artistic journey and path to motherhood are intertwined in interesting ways.

Artistories is a project of the Arts Foundation for Tucson and Southern Arizona, which is partially funded by the City of Tucson and Pima County.

About News & Opps

The Arts Foundation for Tucson and Southern Arizona News & Opps provides information for artists including calls for exhibitions, commissions, fellowships, employment and free professional development training/workshops, and educational opportunities. News & Opps does not announce exhibit openings, fee-based opportunities, programming, workshops or performances, fundraising events, or commercial art venues*. News & Opps is a free service highlighting submissions received by the Arts Foundation for Tucson and Southern Arizona that are aligned with its mission.

Submission Format: Please submit requests for publication here.

*Grantee Spotlight may list fee-for-service events or performances that are supported by grants from the Arts Foundation for Tucson and Southern Arizona. We will make every effort to highlight at least one event or performance from every grantee each fiscal year.
